Rev. H. THOMAS.

Character of District.

The Rev. H. Thomas, pastor of Kinggate St. Baptist Chapel, is a frank & pleasant-spoken young man, with an expression that suggests kindly feeling but not any great strength of purpose or power. We made his acquaintance slightly some years back, when he was assisting the Rev. Jas Flanagan ^{of the Boro} at Thornton Heath, & called with him to borrow our map. He has been at Kinggate St. 6 years, & has infused some life into an old-fashioned declining congregation, issuing public appeals on behalf of various social efforts amongst the poor of the immediate locality, wh. are headed with a sentence from "Life & Labour," following (says Mr. Abell, & probably truly) on the lines of Mr. Flanagan.

The chapel is situated in a district where there is some pink, but in wh. purple & dark blue (with a black streak) predominate, the first being represented by the house & office-keepers of Southampton Row, Holborn, &c., & the last by a mixture of market porters, labourers, street sellers, newspaper sellers & common prostitutes crowded together, 4, 5, 6 & even 7 families to a house in Eagle St., &c. Nos. of families live

Signs of Improvement.

Population worked:

in one room - parents & grown-up children together - & do not seem to recognize as immoral what is ordinarily regarded as such. There are also a good many house-workers. Much of the decorations for the Jubilee came from the worst rookeries in this district.

The neighbourhood is, however, improving, & in the future will do so rapidly. A notorious thieves' kitchen in Dean St. has been abolished, & a lot of old property is coming down to make way for the new thoroughfare wh. the S.P.C. is going to construct. Leases are rapidly falling in, & syndicates are being formed to pull down these old houses & erect modern flats.

The congregation is working class, & consists mostly of office & house-keepers. The lower class are touched to a considerable extent by means of social gatherings & visiting, but they will not come to ordinary services. He offered to give a pair to any poor family in the district, but without result. One great difficulty is want of clothes, & the feeling in this respect he regards as a sign of grace.

"Can I come like this?" said one poor raggedly dressed woman, "It is all I have!" That is evidence of something good in them. They like to be visited, but public worship is not at all in keeping with their life.

But they will crowd in to the strain social wh. is held on Sunday a month, or opens with free tea, coffee, &c., & is followed by simple singing & testimony just suited to them.

Only himself paid, but a number of voluntary workers - a large number in proportion to church membership - & some do a great deal. His wife helps very considerably (they having no children) - visits, takes charge of Band of Hope, mothers meeting, &c.

Chapel holds 800; lecture hall 150. Both are used for Sunday school. Old buildings, with a small endowment, not at all adapted for mission work. They must come down for the new therefore (Kingsgate St. is to be abolished) & Mr.

Work amongst children.

Sunday morning congregation 130; evening 250.
Not large, but good for the City, especially as chapel is in a back street. Very difficult to get people to an out-of-the-way place. Hugh Price Hughes found this out with Heaven Chapel. All right for the first week or two, but after that he faced no better than anyone else.

Get a large number of children to the Sunday schools, recruiting these by means of a children's mission, wh. meets every Tuesday evg, & gives occasional treats, &c. Children of the poorest class crowd in.
When he came he found the chapel was not reaching the lower strata at all, & as a first step to altering this set the ladies of the congregation to dress a hundred dolls. With these for the girls, & toys for the boys, he organized a big Xmas tree & gave away the tickets himself. This at once gave him the entry into the children's homes, & the "tree" is now an annual event. "Father" snips out a little girl, "here's the gentleman what gave me the doll," & he is welcome.

SPECIAL MISSION FOR POOR CHILDREN.

President:

Rev. H. THOMAS.

Superintendent: Mr. W. Jackson.

Secretaries: Miss Billy Gurney and Mr. James Osby

“Behind the fine thoroughfare of Holborn is the third poorest neighbourhood in London.”—CHAS BOOTH

Dear

Kindly give this Circular your consideration, for it is submitted after much thought and care on behalf of some hundreds of the poorest Children of this very poor District, who by their condition cause us to plead for them. They cannot plead for themselves for help, but their need is so real I am sure you would answer it if you knew them as we do.

..... I was eyes to the blind and feet was I to the lame. I was a father to the poor, and the cause which I knew not I searched out, and I brake the grinders of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth.”—Job.

Our desire is not to give them a special Jubilee Treat, nor is our Appeal because of the Jubilee, but of necessity to help them as in former years, to enjoy, with health of body and soul, a short season in the country.

SUNDAY NEXT.

16th, 1896, will give you some idea of the district and the "heavenliness" of the country to these little ones when there:—

"It consists of a conglomeration of narrow courts and passages, intersected by small streets, containing twice as many public-houses and thieves' dens as any district of like size. It boasts of no letter boxes—they would be emptied and broken up for old iron as soon as they were fitted. Its houses are old, shockingly out of repair, and are not numbered, for the reason that they possess no doors. Here and there are gaps surrounded with hoardings which mark the happy demolition of one of their number. On the pavements are a mixture of coster barrows and sprawling children, who look like bundles of filth-stained rags. The staple industry is thieving, for which the above-mentioned barrows are a mere blind," &c.

We have many consecrated workers helping in this Mission to the Children, summer and winter, and throughout the year, seeking by all means (interesting, enlightening and saving) to lift them from the sad condition owing to birth and environment. Every week we have Special Meetings adapted to the very poorest. Much good has been done as letters will show; many saved from the streets are now regular scholars in Sabbath Schools, and eternity will reveal the greater results we are sure.

The Winter is certainly the hardest time for these little ones to endure, and during the cold months we have them continually under our care; but the summer also has its effect upon their health, having to live, as they do, in the stifling atmosphere of the poor one-roomed home(?) May I, therefore, appeal for a little help towards this work amongst "these Little Ones?" We shall be glad to receive Parcels of Material to make up, Ready-made, or Left-off Clothing, etc., or any love gift of money you may choose to send.

As I pen these lines, I am fully aware of the many similar appeals that will be pressed upon your liberality equally deserving, especially in this year of Her Majesty's Jubilee; but I sincerely trust that this Appeal to help some of the pale-faced Little Ones into the Country may not come short of your sympathy and support.

The smallest Contribution will be most thankfully received and acknowledged.

On behalf of the Children,

Yours faithfully,

Rev. H. THOMAS.

Local Government

Poor Law

Police.

"Quite right too", says Mr. J.

Red Lion Sq^{re} Church does good work in district. Mr. Conner is a very nice man, & has interests of locality at heart. Meets him in School Bd. work, but do not cooperate in Church work. High Church & Baptist do not mix well. There is no Salvation Army in district, & S. P. M. has failed. Had a missionary, but he did very little, & was withdrawn.

Decided improvement in sanitary matters. Meets inspectors sometimes. Back streets very dirty.

Does not think the people get much parish relief. Has not come across any cases, & thinks the people wd. not care to apply for it.

Bloomshury Dispensary a fine institution, & very useful.

Police do their work as well as they possibly can. His experience of them very satisfactory.

Drink & Temperance.

A very hard district in wh. to do temperance work, but they are doing fairly well now. Traces most of poverty to drink, but can quite understand it, considering the miserable wretched places in wh. the people have to exist.

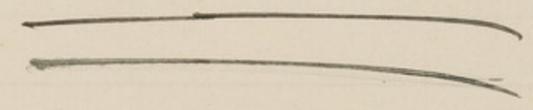

Has a strong impression that injury done to children by allowing them to fetch beer from public-houses. Admits that the surroundings of the p.h. are in no way worse than those of the homes, or the streets in wh. they play, but if children were prohibited from going it wd. at least save them from a double dose of pollution. Thinks these steam children have an inherited taste for drink. Mr. J. is the son of a publican, & used to serve in his father's house in Notts, so professes to know something of the mind working of the trade.

Prostitution

A good deal of prostitution of a very low type. He & his wife visited every room in the worst streets in connection with the Jubilee dinner, & were pained to find so many prostitutes occupying rooms. They usually live 2 or 3 together in a room, & do not he thinks bring men there, but ply their calling on the streets.

There are also a remarkable no. of widows in the district, attracted by clearing work in offices, chambers, &c.

Interview with Mr J. A. Matthews. Church Secretary of Bloomsbury Chapel, Shaftesbury Avenue. W.C.

Mr Matthews is an ironmonger in rather a large way of business at 154 Charing Cross Road. He is a deacon and Sunday School Supt at Bloomsbury as well as Church Secretary & holds two or three minor offices. He is a general business man of about 45 but with no special characteristics apparent to differentiate him from others, unless it be a kindly disposition which was revealed when a smile lit up the somewhat expressionless features.

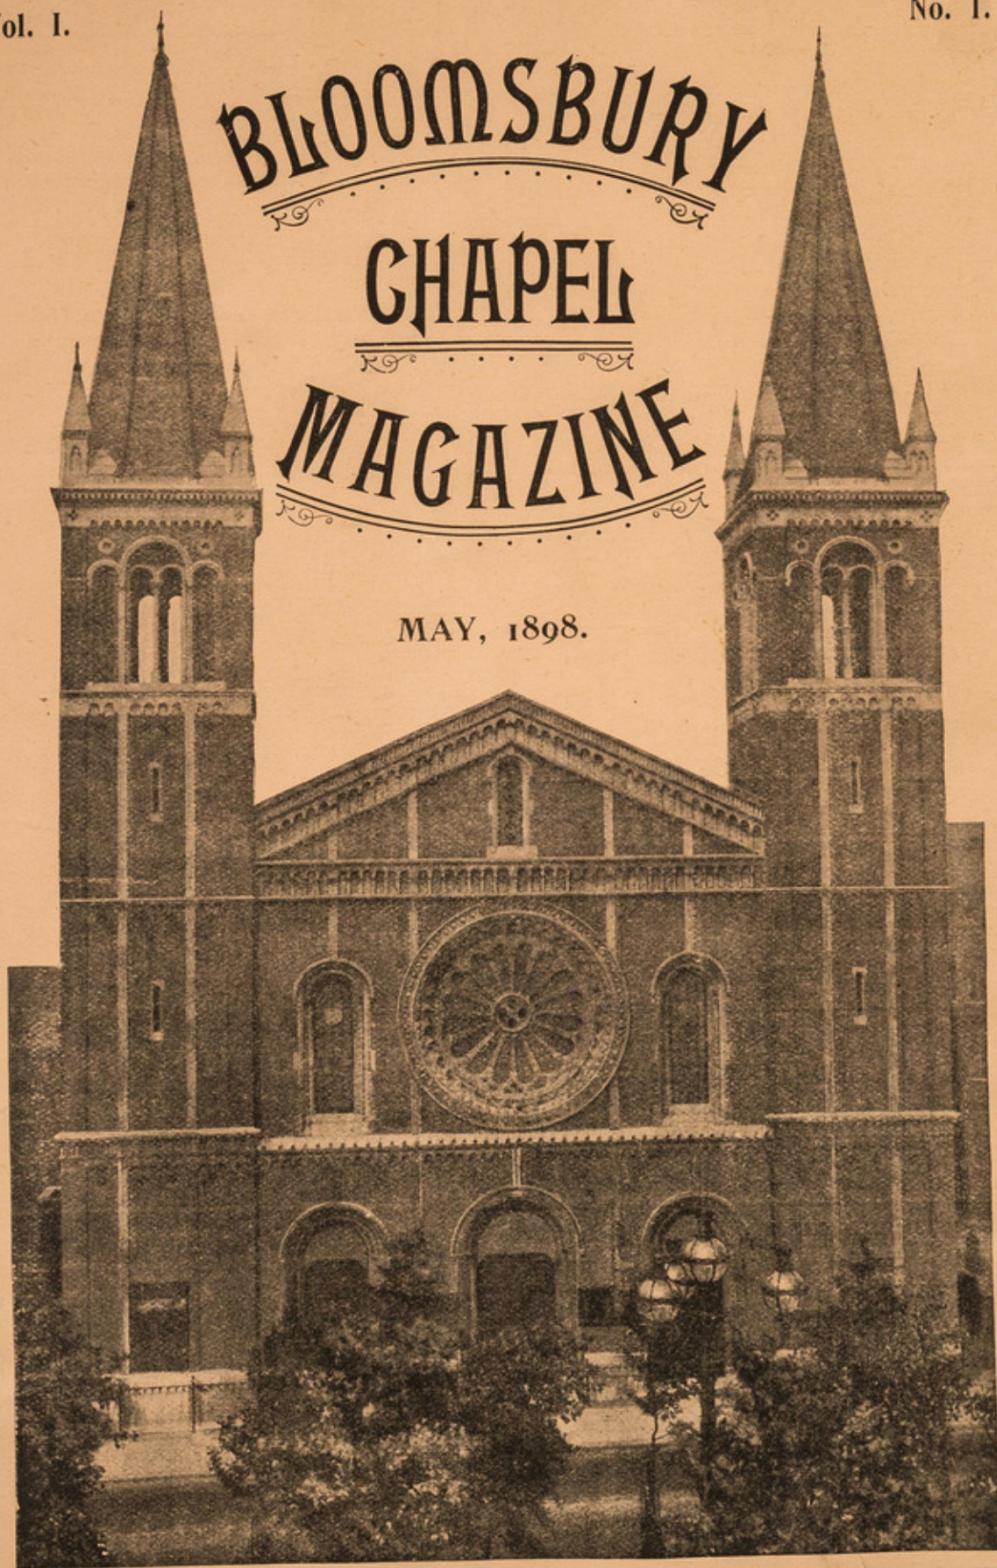

I am not satisfied with the interview. Throughout there was a certain restraint and Mr M. did not talk freely. There always seemed to be something behind & though at times he seemed about to speak freely, he would check himself. Yet he showed no desire to suppress facts but rather refrained from giving opinion or his views.

He gave me a copy of the Church Manual for 1898 & the Magazine. The former is a book of 68 pages & the latter, the Home Messenger localised with 8 pages of local matter.

Bloomsbury Chapel seats 1300 to 1500 people. Have a schoolroom below and several classrooms and vestry. [This chapel was the first built, under ^(in 1848) Mr Norton Peto's det and marks an epoch in non conformist chapel building. Until that time chapels had been built in back streets & it was popularly supposed that dissenters might not have spires to their buildings. The lease specified that ~~one~~ a spire should be erected & the builders erected two; it is said as a protest against the current delusion.]

Bloomsbury Hall, Meard Street, Soho, (District 3) is also rented as a Mission Hall. It is an old ^{chapel} chapel. Holds 300/400 & has a schoolroom below.

Minister, organist & caretaker at Bloomsbury & a Sister at Meard Street. 74 Sunday School teachers and ^(Sister Lily) 30 or 40 other workers, including 8 deacons & 8 elders. The present minister, Rev W. J. Gibbon has only entered on his ministry in October 1897. The congregation, which showed signs of falling off before the close of Rev J. Baillie's ministry is now increasing under Mr G.'s ministry.

The Church membership declined in 1897 by 66 & now stands at 633. Loss due to erasures chiefly as shown in statistics on next page.

Housing

Our Jubilee.

The fiftieth anniversary of the erection of our Chapel will be celebrated this year. So notable an event in our history is deserving of unique commemoration. It has been decided to thoroughly renovate and decorate the chapel and school-room, and mission-hall at Meard Street. The cost will be nearly £2,500. This may appear, and undoubtedly is, a large sum, but it will be easily raised if all the friends of Bloomsbury will avail themselves of the privilege of sharing in the effort. Tuesday, June 21st, has been set apart as a Thanksgiving Day. The Pastor will sit in the vestry, from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m., to receive gifts and promises, made personally or sent by post, from all who have reason to thank God, on the ground of blessings there received, that ever, in his providence, Bloomsbury Chapel was built. Further particulars will appear next month. Meanwhile it is earnestly hoped that all will sympathise with the effort, which is not prompted by a desire for personal comfort, but by a wish to make our sanctuary comfortable and attractive to strangers, and so to assist us in our great endeavour to gather them within the sound of the gospel and win their souls for God. Let all who love "the gates of Zion" join us in prayer for the success of this undertaking, and in contributing, as God hath prospered them, towards the expense on the appointed day!

want to get married cheaply - "are stingy" - He will say, "You will have to pay 5/-"; in other cases leaves it to them.

Housing is terrible in Soho but better than it used to be.

Whilst they are not growing just now, Mrs M thinks they are about to do so. They are handicapped by the old fashioned pews &c & have a scheme for renovating the chapel and Mission in connection with the Jubilee of the building this year. Their chief difficulty is the people "getting off." They become well-off and have country villas, with the result that they are lost to B Bloomsbury.

The new pastor has secured the confidence of the people and Mrs Matthews spoke very highly of him. His address to the people is given on the next page.

The Church altho not so wealthy or influential as in Dr Brock's time is still one of the best known Baptist chapels in London & its people raise over £2300 a year for various purposes.

Pastor's Address.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CHURCH AND CONGREGATION.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,

For the first time it is my privilege to write you the annual pastoral letter. The short period of my connection with you makes it more becoming that I should address a few words of greeting to you rather than attempt a complete review of our many-sided work. I have to thank you very heartily, on behalf of my wife and myself, for the warm welcome you have given us. The heartiness and enthusiasm expressed at the Recognition Service were not formal, but have met us in every department of the Church. The members are evidently loyal, united, and desirous of earnestly co-operating in service for the Master. These are the conditions of success, and I rejoice to find them so manifestly present with us.

The decline in membership is not to be taken as a serious omen, but as an inevitable consequence of the year's interregnum in the pastorate. The dismissals have been as numerous as ever, and probably more so, while the additions have naturally been fewer. Of the 41 new members received throughout the year, 31 were added during the last three months, when the pastorate had again been filled. We may hope, by the blessing of God, to soon regain the ground which has been lost. That the Church suffered in the interval so comparatively slightly, is extremely creditable to the officers, and a testimony to the solid character of the work of the late pastor, Mr. Baillie.

It is too early for me to speak of attainments. I may, however, be permitted to express my pleasure with the special service for young people, which is held on the first Sunday evening in each month, and is one of the most hopeful features of our work. By a recent arrangement, all seats are free for service, and special hymn-sheets are provided. The congregations are already very large, and I hope they will further increase until the Chapel is crowded on every such occasion. I am anxious to make this special effort a means towards filling the Chapel at every service, and I earnestly appeal to all the members for their interest and assistance. Another pleasing sign is the usually large attendance at the Tuesday evening service. I hope and pray that the numbers be maintained and increased. It is in the prayer-meeting spiritual power is generated. Let that service be thoroughly well maintained, and spiritual prosperity is anteed.

But I can speak more fittingly of prospects. This year will be marked by the advent of a Church magazine. The "Day School" monthly, which has been long and ably conducted by Mr. H. E. Jones, has been adopted by the Church. It will be altered and enlarged, and made to represent every department of our Church life. Mr. Jones will continue to act as editor, and I bespeak for the magazine a hearty reception, and I bespeak from it very valuable assistance to all the departments of our work. But the chief event of the year will be the celebration of our jubilee. Bloomsbury Chapel was founded on the 5th of December, 1848. The event was significant and important in the history of Nonconformity. Its fiftieth anniversary calls for unique celebration. Bloomsbury Chapel, and the Mission Hall at Meard Street, will be thoroughly renovated and modernized, so that the building we have learned to love may become to us what it was to our fathers, a "Cathedral of Nonconformity." It is intended to carry out the improvements in the autumn, in order that the evening services may be held at the beginning of December, synchronizing with the original ones. It is estimated that the outlay will exceed £2,000, and the practical help of old Bloomsbury friends who may read these lines, as well as of the present members, is affectionately solicited.

In conclusion, in order that the ordinary work may not suffer during this year of special effort, allow me to urge upon all the desirability of contributing regularly of their means towards the Church's finances, and loyally of their strength towards the Church's service. It is not too much to ask that every member shall be a subscriber, however small may be the amount, towards the weekly offering. Envelopes for the purpose will be gladly supplied by the Deacons. And, equally, every member should be a worker. God has laid upon us many and heavy responsibilities. We rejoice in our numerous activities, but they will prove sources of anxiety unless well maintained by willing workers. I shall be happy to introduce to suitable service any unemployed member who will apply to me.

Urging all to "pray for the peace of Jerusalem," and reminding them of the promise, "they shall prosper that love thee,"

I remain,

Your sincere friend and pastor,
BENJAMIN J. GIBBON.

Mr Macrae is a smart young Scotchman. Keen twinkling eyes, slight mustache, courteous in manner, ~~also~~ effusively so. Frank yet careful in his statements. A man, who while careful about the main chance, probably enjoys life.

'Crown Court' is a branch of the Scottish National Church & bears the same relation to the ordinary Presbyterian churches that the Church of England bears to the non-conforming churches. It is ^{building} an historic church & the records go back 200 years. The Church holds 1000. It is a fine old fashioned building with some old fashioned pews, richly carved pulpit & elaborate carvings round gallery &c. Three schoolrooms & vestry.

The first object of the church is to cater for the spiritual needs of the Scotch in London & in addition it seeks to carry on a Museum work in the neighbourhood.

MY DEAR FRIENDS,

Again I am glad to say the dominant note of this letter may be one of gratitude and congratulation. With the close of another year of our congregational history, there is progress all along the lines—success in some points almost beyond our hopes.

Take the case of the Organ. It was not without considerable anxiety that on this occasion last year I asked you to embark upon the undertaking of providing one for our Church. There were grave doubts as to its payment—doubts as to whether it might not seriously trench upon our ordinary revenues. Well, in spite of that we went forward, and, through the generosity of Miss ELLIS and the splendid management of Mr. CHRISTISON, you all know what a triumphant success the affair has proved. We have more than got our Organ; we have had revealed to us many an unknown friend, of whose existence we were formerly unaware.

I am quite clear that our next Congregational move should be towards an adequate endowment. That gives a Church a feeling of stability and permanence that nothing else can give. A luxury in the case of a rich Church, it comes to be something like a necessity under such conditions as are ours, if the Church is to do strongly the great work which lies to her hand, and which it is now evident she can do.

Our Congregation, as you know, is almost wholly composed of those who are just beginning the battle of life—hard enough anywhere, almost appalling in its difficulty here—those to whom a Church is indeed a rock of defence in such a city. Is it fair that as soon as they cross the threshold they should be asked for money? Is it creditable to the Church of Scotland that, with all her endowments at home, she has no free Gospel for her children when they cross the Tweed, no shelter to offer them in this greatest and most dangerous city of the world? Can anyone, who has ever heard it, forget the pathetic remark, “I should like to join you, but I cannot afford to”? I believe in voluntary giving—would God it were wholly voluntary here. I now know enough to say, Give me an endowed Crown Court, and, with the blessing of God and the help of our loyal workers, it shall be made a power in the Scottish world of London—a harbour of refuge indeed to many a lonely and storm-tossed soul.

All the organizations of the Church are in a thriving condition; some of them remarkably so. I would make special acknowledgements to the Guilds and Choir for the valuable services they have rendered, and which have gone so far in brightening and strengthening our Congregational life. Verily they have not been labouring in vain.

Only one shadow lies upon us, and that is from an undertaking in many ways apart from the Church. I refer to the grave deficit in the “Needy Work” account. To my mind, that should as soon as possible be firmly dealt with by a Committee of our business men, who can place the matter on a strictly business footing.

To our kind friends in St. Columba's we would again offer our greetings and thanks, glad ever to remember that there are still many to whom the prosperity of their old Church is dear; and to all who have helped us, whether within or without the walls, and to many former fellow-worshippers now in the ends of the earth, we would say, May God bless you for many a kind remembrance; may you get as you have given.

To the Most High would we humbly offer our tribute of gratitude, even to Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, and full of strength from the past, and hope for the future, we would go cheerfully on our way, endeavouring, in His strength, simply to do our duty, content to leave results to Him “Who doeth all things well.”

Your Friend and Minister,

ALEXANDER MACRAE.

Draw a number of local people through the Museum ^(Museum Street) but taken as a whole the congregation is not poor as all have an income. Get 170 to 180 in the morning & over 200 in the evening. Morning congregation is better (slightly) than the evening from a social point of view.

young people. Each numbers a little over 80 members. The young mens is mainly a social gathering; the womens which includes all the women of the congregation, is religious and social.

District Visitor has been here 40 years. Visits the members & those in district but not house to house. Mr M. visits a little but the long distance at which the members live hinders him. These people do not need visiting much: a strong kind of people, well taught before they came to London, &c. When Mr M. came he told one of the elders that he was going to visit every body. The brother replied "You will have ~~enough~~ enough to do" & evidently thought it was unnecessary.

Charitable Relief about £100 said Mr M. but looking at the account, the amount does not appear to be half that. Mostly goes to people outside. Get a great many people from Scotland & these folk evidently think Mr M. is far gone. He admitted that he had given to men, whom he believed to be impostors & told me how a man who had

Had good day schools some years ago. These were taken over by the Board & for some time it has threatened to close them & this threat has just been executed. Are going to make it a school for defective children.

Church membership about 100 (I think Mr In said but I did not note the figure)

Mr In. mentioned the difference in public opinion in Scotland & London as regards church going. In Scotland a man cannot afford not to go to church. Here the feeling is the other way in most of the business houses. The London life affects the young Scotchmen coming here very strongly. They either become much better & stronger or else drift away. They have a system by which young men should be introduced on coming to London but here as in the Presbyterian

Mr M. is a chaplain of the Scottish Corporation. Replying to questions, he said that a monthly service for the pensioners was held in the Chapel at Crane Court to which the public were admitted but there was no local religious work carried on at that Chapel. The poor, at least those who beg, do not like the Corporation as it makes street inquiries.

He has only been at Orange Street about a year, but has been working in St Giles & Soho for the past 25 years and knows the district thoroughly. Was at Inland Hall before he came to Orange Street.

The colours on the map fairly represent the district. Population is declining in the immediate neighbourhood. In streets near the Haymarket, there are a number of caretakers, many people engaged at theatres and hotels and a great number of prostitutes live near.

The congregation is a working class; drawn large from the buildings & the streets off Bedfordbury, with some caretakers & hotel servants dropping in as visitors.

- " 29th. Musical Evening by Members.

Chapel, holding nearly 1000, vestries, schoolroom. Newton Hall (the ground floor of Sir Isaac Newton's House). The upper rooms are up 'to let', but are used as schoolrooms.

Sunday. Service at 11. & 7. Morning, a few church members & young people. Evening (best) averaged 160 last month. When Mrs H. came place was about to be closed & congregation was only about 12. Attendance now varies with the attractions

Sunday School. On book 200 scholars, attendance averages 150. Fairly well to do, judging by dress. Could double number but lack teachers.

Open air meeting (?) on Sunday evening at Oxendon Street & Charing Cross Road. Get well dressed fast young men to stop at former place. These meetings are well organised. Lamps, large hymn sheets, banners &c.
Wednesday. Prayer meeting & open air service.

Thursday. Services - same people as on Sunday.

Mothers' Meeting (In) over 100 poor respectable women. Clothing club etc. Come from Newport Fields &c Young Peoples' Society. About 40 to 50 members. Ages 14 to 20. Children of the members mainly. Church membership about 100.

Mr H. visits "as much as I can personally". Seven deacons also assist. The Ladies of the Maternal & Benevolent Society also visit cases of sickness. Would like to visit regularly but have not sufficient strength.

Not very much relief except such as is sent to Mr H. by friends. Have no funds for the purpose. Deals with cases according to circumstances - does not believe in indiscriminate giving. Gives children's dinners in winter. Sends about 80 children for country holiday (Nov.)

Only co-operation is by the Free Church Council. Is on intimate terms with the vicar (Rev Kettle) & communicates respecting cases to be relieved.

St Martin's Church (Rev Kettle) is working. Has a biblewoman & visits the district.

St Giles Christian Mission. (St Giles Branch) are not strong in visiting.

Police have been our protectors & best friends.

As to prostitution, he does not think it possible to paint the picture sufficiently black. "If there is a spot on God's earth cursed it is this spot." The people

Court at back of Chapel is a notorious place of resort. Has 3 entrances & would require a policeman at each to keep it clear.

Crime

who wish to live respectable have to watch very keenly in letting rooms & then get bad character in. They have two cottages in court at back of chapel & could let them for enormous prices if they would wink at this traffic. The high rents obtainable is a constant temptation to landlords and they give way to it. The Vigilance Committee deals with cases but it is very difficult to get evidence to obtain conviction. Place must be watched by two or three people & even then do not get convictions as rebutting evidence is obtained.

Mentioned case of a house just behind the chapel. 14 or 15 couples have been seen going in during one hour. Police took the cases up, after the evidence was obtained. The people were evicted & within 24 hours the place was let again to apparently different people but the same blinds were put up again & things went on as before until fresh proceedings were taken. However when they have a clear case proceedings can be taken at once as there is a "standing solicitor" to deal with the question.

Not much crime in this part of the parish.

Soho

Polyglot Soho

National centres

Changes in district

Soho is a 'criminal mystery'. The crime is linked with all parts. Organised. Criminals from abroad come to Soho.

In this connection, Mr H. mentioned the diversity of languages spoken in Soho. Has been in a house in which 5 languages were spoken & in the next 5 other languages. Soho has become more crowded and congested within the past 8 or 9 years; and the foreign influx has been great especially since the tailors' strike. Foreign Jews came in then not only from East London but from abroad. Houses were crowded & sanitary inspectors outwitted. These Jews would be in the houses as visitors; go out & come back after late at night to sleep. Nor was sleeping confined to the rooms but people complained to him of those who slept on the staircases.

Nationalities seemed to select particular streets as their own. In Inch Street and Santon Street - Russians; Dean Street, Italians

Asked as to his opinion of the changes in the district, Mr Harrison said that in Soho ~~to~~ and in St Giles there had been improvement.

The influence of the Schoolboard had been very marked. At that time he was giving children's dinners in the district. ~~In~~ Two or three years after the establishment of the Board there was an entire change in the physical appearance of the children; they had an intelligent appearance and manner. Change was due to the discipline & education. With this improvement the children became sharper and he has heard some of the keenest repartees come from these children. The poverty of today is not so bad as it was - 25% better. There is not the degradation that existed. It is very rare now to find a room absolutely bare of furniture.

As to the lines of work, he is convinced that the thing is to lay hold of the young people and train them in habits of self respect. This is what he seeks to do at Orange Street. A good education governed by self respect will place the young people in positions of some importance. He has seen the children of the very poor make themselves good positions.

One great improvement of the district was the formation of Shaftesbury Avenue, which swept swept away a number of slums. The vice in that neighbourhood in the old time was low and brutal and more like that of the Mint district. Today the vice of the district around Leicester Square is an organized business, carried on by foreigners, at least, so far as the conduct of the houses are concerned. The women are not all foreign.

Of the work at Orange Street, Mr H. is sanguine. They work the buildings thoroughly and are getting people from them & building up a cause, where formerly they had but a 'shell'. His reason for working the Bldgs is mainly because they are inhabited by the class of people for whom they cater.

Mr Harrison does not appear to be recognised by the Congregational Union as his name does not appear in the Yearbook. He mentioned incidentally that the Union would like to sell the place (freehold) & use the proceeds for Mission work elsewhere. Mr H. however dreams of a "Settlement" here on Non-conformist lines.

Population of the District

Holy Trinity parish.

Rev^d Josiah Banham, Supt of St Queen Street Wesleyan Circuit & Minister of 41 Queen St, Chapel; and Sister Sara (66 41 Queen St), Deaconess of 41 Queen St, seen at 44 Doughty Street. W.C.

Mr Banham is a grey haired, refined old man (about 60) with a benevolent and beaming face. A good but probably rather weak man. One of the old style of ministers; who will seek to combine the a cultured service with the brightness and warmth that the poorer folk look for.

Sister Sara is a fine looking woman of about 30 ^(but looks younger) whom the deaconess's habit suits admirably.
Sensible and sympathetic but not soft. Has been in the district some years as she remembers Parker Street in the old time

The people are mainly artisans in the Dwellings (Peabody), whilst the courts are occupied by a real slum population. A good many theatrical employees. The Sister knew the district at the back of the chapel extremely well. Sardinia Bldgs, she says is the worst; it is called "Mill house" sometime. A few respectable people there but she does not go much as most of the ~~poor~~ inhabitants are poor Irish Catholics. There she has several dress houses. Population however is decreasing owing to clearances and closing of houses

After giving particulars as to ministers in charge of the chapel on the circuit, the conversation referred entirely to St. Queen Street, Chapel.

Ministers & deacons paid. & a large number of voluntary workers but could not say how many. 35 to 40 visitors & 23 S.S. teachers beside others but some overlapping between S.S. & Mission Band.

Chapel in St. Queen St holds 1600. Extension premises at back ~~formerly~~ used as day school, including 2 rooms holding 350 each & several class rooms

For Services - see Plan attached to next page.

Congregation varies very much: Better in evening when they get 400 to 500 people. Mixed: artisans from the Peabody Bldg, shopkeepers, some professional men (doctors) and young men from the shops in City & Bedford St. Also get a number of visitors & some people from the Bloomsbury lodging houses. Sister Sara interjected that ~~the~~ Americans were noticeable amongst the visitors.

SOCIETY STEWARDS.

Their duties are:—1. To receive from the Leaders the contributions of the members, and to pay them, with the Quarterly Collection and any other subscriptions to the Circuit Funds, to the Circuit Stewards before the Quarterly Meeting. 2. To supply the Pulpit with the Notices required by the Directory, and to examine all other notices sent for publication. Notices without their sanction are inadmissible. 3. To see that all Collections are duly announced on the Sabbath preceding, and that they are made at the appointed time, from which there shall be no deviation, but with the Superintendent's consent. Connexional Collections must be remitted to the Superintendent without delay.

POOR STEWARDS.

Their duties are:—1. To secure the due announcement of the Lorr's Supper and the Lovefeast, and to make suitable provision for the same. 2. To receive the Collections made on these occasions for the relief of the poor, and to dispense them as directed by the Leaders' Meeting. 3. To furnish the Minister with the name and address of every sick member.

LEADERS

are specially charged with the spiritual oversight of their respective classes. Besides giving suitable counsel at the weekly meeting, it is incumbent upon them to visit their members; to encourage them to contribute weekly, as a religious duty, to the support of the Work of God (1 Cor. ix. 7-12, and 1 Cor. xvii 1-14); and to pay the sums received punctually to the Society Stewards.

Persons wishing to join the Church, and those who are anxiously seeking salvation, are affectionately invited to speak to the Ministers, and will be heartily welcomed by any of the Leaders to their Society Classes.

Lodging House Services held by Mission Band in the

Lodging house Services

Social Agencies

73
The Great Queen Street Lodging House & also in the Municipal Lodging House, Parker Street (once a month). These services have been successful & form the Church's attempt to reach the slum people, whom they do not attempt to get to the chapel. Sister Sara ^{said} "they do not care to come". She however gets them to come to her Bible class & this forms a sort of stepping stone to the church.

The Services at the Parker Street Lodging House were taken by 4 Churches in succession during the month but the men petitioned that Sister Sara should take one a month & so she goes with a band of women once a month so that the Wesleyans really take two.

Boys' Brigade, Band of Hope.
Saturday night Temperance Mtg. or Concert. Orchestral Band with about 50 performers. Temperance Society - about 50 members: try to get the poorest of the poor & ~~in~~ "we do get them." Two slate clubs (men & women) These with most of the foregoing are worked by the Mission Band, ~~most of these engagements are in connection with the Mission Band,~~ a fairly active organisation. See programme ^{on next page} ~~opposite~~.

Social Meeting on Sunday after evening service; greatly valued by Mrs B. for reaching the young men: get about 150 to come.

Charitable Relief

Church membership -	237
On trial	22	249.

The Mission Band visitors distribute about 1000 handbills every week in the dwellings & neighbourhood. Sister Sara give all her days to visiting and finds nearly enough to do following up people who come to one or other of the meetings. Also visits from house to house, chiefly in the district behind the chapel. Visits different classes on certain days: Wednesday, class members; Thursday, Cripples for Ragged School Union; Friday, lodging house to leave tracts & papers, sick & other cases every day.

Leads also visit the class members. "Should be a sort of sub pastor".

Reckons relief amounts to about £100 a year. Sacramental fund for poor members. Good Samaritan Fund (40 or 50 members give 6^d a month) for other poor. Christmas dinners; clothing. The amount & character of relief seem to depend upon the visitors; & Mrs. Hawkes & Sister Sara visit nearly all cases that are relieved. In reply to questions as to class of cases.

relieved, the deaconess said it depended on the cases. & gave two cases. One she visited for the Stranger Friend Society - found the woman had 4 dogs & 3 cats & thought as she could keep these creatures she did not need help. The second was a man, wife & 8 children; man came to London & opened a little shop which thrived until another was opened in the same street. Man became unwell & was sent to hospital. This case was assisted. They look upon drunken people suspiciously. Mr Bankham said that he was becoming strengthened in his views of the evils of indiscriminate giving and was hardening his practice. He however said that he did not always act up to his principle but gave to better beggars, of whom larger numbers come to him. "I fear it is not doing good but it is difficult to say no."

People who beg are the most undeserving; best cases are found by visiting (Sister Sara)

Practically no co-operation. Free Church Council does not help in this matter & seldom see the Church of England. In London "you seem to be absorbed in your own work" to you

Co-operation

Other Religious Agencies

Police & Drink

81
Wheatley (St. Felix Mission) visits constantly. Have 36(?) paid works.

Holy Trinity works more. Has several workers and mission. St. Clement Daves is in a similar position.

Police are helpful. Drink is a fearful curse. A large percentage of the lodging house population have come down through drink. Sister Sara was at Bow Street a few days ago & 20 women were brought up as "drunk & disorderly". Police deal kindly with them.
Some of the larger publichouses have a "Ladies Entrance".

Mr B. thinks the prospects are improving. The church has been growing slowly with a decreasing population.
He expects that dwellings will be shortly erected on the cleared spaces & reckons on drawing from this source. The service is made high class enough to attract the well to do while at the same time he seeks to have the warmth & glow that is appreciated by the working people. Lose a great many through removals.
Lost 57 out of 229 during last year by removals & the Society changes every 3 or 4 years.

The Lodging House Services

83
Respecting the results of the Lodging House service the Sister gave some details. The services are appreciated by some but they do not draw any of the lodgers directly to the chapel, but they do gain them by an indirect process. The Sister asked them to attend her bible-class, e.g. such as are interested. They come and after a time do attend the services. She has 50 in this class now and there are several members of the church who were inmates of the Lodging house.

Then who wish to better their condition are sent to the Besbrook House (Mr Keates') of which Mr B & the Sister spoke highly. Young Women are sent to the Working Girls Home in Starhope Street, a Church of England Institution.

This shows the good feeling that apparently exists between the various denominations here as does another remark about by Sister Sara, who said that when she visited Sardinia Buildings, she always spoke to Sister Louise (the R.C. sister) before she gave any relief there.

Interview with

Rev Frank S.W. Nicholson. Pastor of John Street
Chapel, Theobalds Road. W.C. Seen at the Chapel.

June 4th 98

Mr Nicholson is a young man, in the twenties. The interview was delayed by his ill health & he looks weak and has little reserve strength. Thin and with a long face which looks longer owing to the plentiful dark hair being brushed up from the forehead. He was trained at the Pastors' College and settled here in 1896. His first pastorate.

The chapel is an historic building and was the scene of Rev Baptist Noel's ministry. Then it was crowded by a middle class congregation, including not a few carriage folk from the neighbouring squares. All this is changed now. The residents in the district are mainly lodging house keepers, law & medical students and some poor folk at the back of the chapel.

The Chapel is a large building (1300 sittings) & has just been decorated & fitted with the electric light, ^{the} funds being derived from a legacy of £500. Attached there are a very complete set of schoolrooms & classrooms, with entrances in John St & John's Place.

"All we have willed or hoped or dreamed of good shall exist;
Not in semblance, but itself; no beauty, nor good, nor power
Whose voice has gone forth, but each survives
for the melodist
When eternity affirms the conception of an hour.
The high that proved too high, the heroic too hard,
The passion that left the ground to lose itself

Enough that He heard it once: we shall hear it by-and-by."

The relief to the lodging house people is given in the form of tokens, available at Lockhart's for food.
Others provide for a night's lodging. The distribution is at the leader of the band's discretion.

The Free Church Council is getting into working order. Its map is now issued by the only united action has been in local elections as yet. Very little co-operation between the churches - might be 100 miles apart.

The Baptist Deaconess Home, 59 Doughty Street.
(Sister Gwendoline) does a lot of work, chiefly in the Leather Lane district where they have a Mission Hall.
Holborn Town Hall Services (Mrs Waterby) draw the people from all round. Invitations are given to all passers-by including his S.S. teachers as they pass to schools.

Temperance

Marriages

93
Could not say much about drunk. A strong temperance feeling in the church, altho' a number of the people are working at the breweries. Good Templars Lodge is strong. 200 members.

Chapel is licensed for marriages, but Mr N. does not like to marry the young people as they invariably go to the suburbs. Sees some signs of a return of the residential population however. A house in Doughty street has just been taken by a family coming back & the mansions in Gray Inn Road (Bloody) ^{tc} are occupied by middle class people.

The prospects are good. Congregation is growing and a growing interest is manifest in the Sunday school & Bibleclasses. Last year 12 members joined the Church from the schools.

Mr N. is probably a good preacher and popular with the young people, who form a large proportion of his congregation. In the year book, allusions are made to the difficulties the church has passed through & the church is no doubt hard pushed to pay its way, altho' the buildings are freehold. But its stipend is only £145.

Visitation

Charitable Relief

101
On Sunday afternoons, a number of visitors are at work in the neighbourhood of Wild Street. The Peabody Bldgs are thus visited, the visitors taking booklets &c. "This is how we get our people" said Mr Whedby. Beside this, the paid agents also visit, especially any cases of sickness & want that are reported by the voluntary workers. He mentioned the names of two ladies engaged in this work.

The charitable relief is considerable in this part of the work as in that amongst prisoners. In the account the following items appear:

Relief by Tickets, Money gifts &c £ 1236.7
Free Teas, Dinners &c 63.8 £1299.15

In addition the children are sent to Holiday houses & excursions are given but amount cannot be stated as it is combined with Orphanage Expenses.

The two lady visitors "give what is needed". Bread, coals, tea, sugar &c. Is doing away with tickets largely as tickets can be bartered. Hospital and dispensary letters are also given. The dispensary in Stanhope Street is very popular. The

The following extract from the Report shows Mr W's position as to relief:

THE RELIEF OF DISTRESS.

The winter months bring their own peculiar and pressing demands upon our resources.

It is then that work is scarce and the cry of the poor is loudest.

We cannot let that cry go unheeded.

Feed the hungry, and supply warmth to the cold and wretched we must.

As we have said before, we do not administer relief indiscriminately. On the one hand we do not administer it grudgingly or when it is too late.

We investigate and then we help. How we do so, might have been witnessed one evening a few days before last Christmas Day, when in the presence of W. R. McConnell, Esq., Q.C. (Chairman of the County of London Sessions) and several other gentlemen, we distributed hundreds of parcels of provisions to the deserving poor.

Some of them were so weak and aged that they literally could not themselves carry the parcels we placed in their hands.

The Drury Lane district, Mr W. thinks, has undoubtedly improved during the past 30 years, altho he is not so sure about the people. Thinks they are much the same morally but are more polished.

In the Seven Dials district there is 'any amount' of thieves & bad characters.

Asked about the other religious agencies, he said that they had nothing to do with other people. He does not trouble about the sects apparently altho' the Church appears in the Union Handbook as Baptist. "If you preach Christ, we are perfectly satisfied that you are the one to come to our place", said he.

Asking if they had a printed list of the services held, my question was misunderstood as an enquiry for statistics and one of his young men produced the following proof of an advertisement of the same.

Mr Jas Blackman, London City Missionary.

June 24/99.

Shaftesbury Memorial Hall, Lamb's Conduit Street, W.C.

When I called at the Hall, I found Mr Blackman and his Supt, Mr Bamster, awaiting me. The latter is a tall old gentleman, a solicitor, who told me he had been supt there 30 years. I soon found that he knew very little about the people and I was embarrassed as to how to pump the L.C.M. without ignoring the supt, when a third member of the Comtee entered - a fussy little old man to whom I had to be introduced. It then transpired that they held a little meeting on Wednesday morning to talk over the mission affairs & as the little man wanted to get away, I offered to wait whilst the business was done. They then talked over a proposed outing for the mothers meeting & fixed it for the following week, after which the two Comtee men went & left Mr B. to me.

Mr Blackman has been on this district 7 years & previously was stationed at Paddington. He is a big man of about 45 with a frank, jovial face, a good forehead & a merry twinkle in his eye. Well dressed and altogether one of the most capable of the missionaries I have met.

The district is almost a rectangle bounded by Great Armond Street, Great James Street, Theobalds Road & Southampton Row. He reckons that 2000 families reside within it and of these he can get at about 700.

The poorest bits are New North Street, Emerald St., Armonde Yard, Dunstable place. Armonde yard (marked purple) he thinks as poor as any. Stablemen, drivers & men employed in connection with horses. Peculiar place: will find nearly everybody there tipsy by 11 o'clock in the morning. Occurs occasionally & without any apparent reason. Dunstable place is immoral - prostitutes. Emerald Street, is very bad - worst in the neighbourhood. The result of immorality - not of the girls but married women. New North Street is very crowded but not all poor. Men employed at Maple's & Shoobred's, engineers, farmers &c. As an example he said that at No 20 there were 10 families; found 7 people in one room; and 9 in a kitchen.

The district is crowded but not more than when he

he came. The people as they improve in position move away and the young people always go away. Many of the families however are too poor to go; they could not afford the season ticket.

The Hall seats 150 comfortably. It is reached through a passage from Lambos Conduit St. Formerly they had a house in Orde Hall Street, with which the hall is connected but this was given up on the account of the explosion.

Has from 20 to 25 voluntary workers, most of whom have grown up in the schools.

Sunday School. 11 and 2-45 PM. 135 on the books and average attendance 50 and 100.

7 PM. Gospel Service. Average 80 to 100. Come from all parts of the district. A few men, but it is very difficult to get them. Supposes it is the same everywhere. He went to the church at Hendon (where he lives) last Sunday morning. Attendance was about 200 but there were not more than 20 men.

Monday. 3. Mothers Meeting. About 25. Good many don't come on Sunday. Regards it as a failure. It is carried on by ladies from ~~the~~ Church Missionary Society's home. These ladies go away for long vacations at Christmas & in the summer during which time the meeting is discontinued & Mr B. has to get it together again.

Saturday. Entertainment for the people

Open Air meeting at Corner of Chapel St on Sunday.

Mr Blackman used to have a horsekeepers bible class but had to give it up when the house was vacated.

Mr B. gets over the district once in about 6 weeks. He gives two days to visitation of the sick & interesting cases and Fridays to visiting men, the horsekeepers in 'the Yard' (e.g. Brown) and the mews, engineers, farmers etc. As a rule he is well received received by the men and he prefers visiting men to women. "You can get something out of them. They may not agree with you but they will say what they think." "With the women, it is 'Yes, Sir', 'No, Sir', 'Good day' or something of the soft flattery sort and as soon as the front door is closed it is all over.

They have a Poor Relief Society, worked by the poor people at the Hall. They ~~last~~ distributed about £ 10 last year, mainly on Mr B's recommendation. "They call me the R.O.". Never help with the rent; nearly all are cases of out of work or sickness, ^{real}. Asked as to the ~~cause~~ cause of the want, the ~~reply~~ reply was "In 9 cases out of 10 it is drink". In cases where they had to relieve the family of a drunken man, they would take the bread etc to the home.

Give 50 dinners to poor families at Christmas.

Does not see much of other agencies. The Bible-woman in connection with St George's Church, visits but only to collect pence. The chapels don't visit

In cases of sickness, he sends to the Baptist Sisters at Doughty Street, They will come when sent for.

As to co-operation there is none. "I am isolated," whilst the vicar (of St Georges) is better against him.

Very familiar with the police.

Mr Blackman is a good worker but evidently hampered by his surroundings but especially the Supt.
Our first letter he showed to Mr B. who promised to send us a report but did not do so. Mr Blackman replied to the second letter excusing himself for the apparent discourtesy. When I saw him, he asked if the Report had been received and when I replied 'No' he ejaculated "I expected so".
Mr Baumster when he went promised to

Rev Pastor H. J. Chilvers, Minister of Keppel Street Street
Baptist Church, Bloomsbury. W.C. Residence 30 Baker Street
Lloyd Sq. W.C.

The Keppel Street Church belongs to the "Metropolitan Assocⁿ of Street Baptist Churches". Mr Chilvers, the pastor, has been settled 4 years. A stoutly built young fellow (25 or 26), medium height; frank full face & high forehead and pleasant unaffected manner.

The Chapel seats 780 people easily, schoolroom (250) & large vestry & 2 other rooms form the accommodation, which is held from the Duke of Bedford on a short lease.

Beside the pastor (paid) there are about 400 voluntary workers including 5 deacons & 21 S.S. teachers.

The congregation is drawn mainly from the north - Hampstead Road district. From the neighbourhood they get some of the servants and some visitors - mostly Americans. It is a medium class congregation and the noticeable feature is the number of young people - young men & young women, shop assistants, dressmakers &c as come under their notice, and The Tract Society has a number of visitors, visiting the news and poorer streets regularly with tracts. Mostly done on Sunday but some visitors go during the week. Mr C gives one day a week to visitation of the poor and has confined his visits to Somers Town as being the most needy spot near him. Also visits members & sick. When he cannot visit cases, he hands them on to the deacons.

Poor members are helped from the Communion fund & by a collection once a year. Spend £20 to £30 a year. Dorcas Society also makes clothing and sells it cheaply to the poor.

Membership is now 170 & they are growing. Has admitted ^{over} 60 members during the past year.

Christ Church, Woburn Square - Has taken some of the children & Mr C. thinks the vicar (Rev G. Nash) is a good man. A Mission has recently been started in the News near their school. Mr C. has not been able to discover anything about it but thinks it is a church mission. Hold a service at 8 PM on Sunday

Of the Catholic Apostolic Church (Jordan Sq) he hears & sees nothing: they might be miles away.

The Gower Street Street Baptists are a rich church but have no pastor, nor have they had for sometime past. Belong to the 'Standard' group.

A little co-operation in temperance work as with Mr Thomas of Kingsgate Street.

A good deal of drinking in the mews.

Some bad houses in Keppel Street. Gower Place he also knew as a notoriously bad spot.

Not much thrift amongst the poorer class. Mostly when the husband dies the woman is left unprovided for.

As to the housing, he could not say much. The streets & the mews are kept remarkably clean. A number of the men living in the mews die of consumption in middle life. He has been called to visit 4 such cases.

So far as the residents in the immediate district are concerned they have not been successful. They have tried to get the coachmen & have laid themselves out to do it but have not gained them. Once a year they get about 300 to 400 of these people & the parents of the children to the Annual Meeting of the Tract Society, when a tea is provided. They have been most successful in the district north of Euston Road, Drummond St &c. &

Mr C. is an energetic young fellow and not bound by conventionalities. Although the church is not a strong local influence, it is evidently gaining strength. I notice that in the Annual Report of the .Metis. Assⁿ. a return of the number of ~~the~~ baptisms during the year is given. Mr Chilvers's Church stands first of the 66 churches in the Assⁿ in this respect with 17, altho several others have a larger membership

Mr A. Licence. 133 Bridge Road, Battersea.
London City Missionary on the Drury Lane District.

Mr Licence has been working ~~at~~ at Drury Lane for 23 years. He is a tall thin man of about 55; high forehead, intellectual face with long iron grey beard. Pleasant chatty man with an inexhaustible fund of anecdote & pithy sayings.

The district is bounded west by Catherine Street, south by the Strand; and east by Starhope Street and north by Kerble Street. The missionary to the east of Starhope Street has been removed and Mr L. also works his district - the Clare market area - so that his area practically extends to the Law Courts.

We walked over the district together, Mr Licence, the while, giving his opinion of the courts and alleys which contain even now the bulk of the 'rentable' families. The courts off the Strand between Catherine Street and Drury Court are occupied by families living in single rooms as a rule, the occupier of two rooms being an aristocrat. The inhabitants are gradually being driven out & the houses turned into business premises

premises. In the court next Catherine Street the process is nearly complete. The clearance of the courts between Catherine Street & Drury Lane has greatly improved the district. The worst parts now remaining are White Horse Court & the other courts east of Drury Lane. These are now doomed and several of the houses in White Horse Court are closed. In White Horse Court a woman's lodging houses remain. It is used exclusively by young women, mostly prostitutes. ~~As~~ we passed a well dressed young woman came out, who looked strangely out of keeping with the surroundings. Mrs. S. said she was one of the lodgers. Round the corner in Stanhope Street (No 24) is a second house used by elder women; a couple of bleary eyed, frowsy creatures were sitting on the doorstep & a third standing in the doorway. Stanhope Street, though outwardly more respectable, is as poor & crowded as the courts. In the back yards of most of these houses is a three storied erection with one room on each floor. These, like the houses are let in rooms, access being through the house in front, the street doors being left open. Mr L. had been 8 years on the district before he discovered

these tenements. The occupants of one we visited were evidently extremely poor - an old sack stretched across the window of one room for a curtain.

The district as a whole has greatly improved during the time Mr L. has been there; the improvement being in nearly every case connected with demolitions; thus ^{part of} the area between Clare Market & Clements Dunes, formerly a nest of bad women & vile men, is now business premises.

I noticed that Mr L. usually avoided speaking of the moral character of the people, unless compelled to do so. He admitted that the moral tone was very low. The prostitutes are mostly found in the lodg^{ing} houses but immorality is common and he thinks there are very few pure women in the district. You have to keep one eye shut. If you kept both eyes open and noticed all that goes on you would never come into the district ^{again}.

Belting is the great evil amongst the men. Above a bookmaker shop in New Castle Street (to which Mr L. took me) a bookmaker lives. From 12 to 2 every day he is in the street receiving money & slips of paper, lads being stationed at all the approaches to signal

the police

the police or other danger. Women bet as well as men.

Is exceedingly well received by the people, many of whom have grown up whilst he has been on the district. Sometimes they will say "I haven't a minute to speak to you Mr Licence" and will end with a long talk. "I like that old bloke Licence" they will say.

Has had two or three mission rooms but has none now. Holds a meeting for his people on Tuesday's at 8 PM at the Workman's Hall, Drury Lane on Mr Jadeson's district. Not many attend as it is too far.

Does not give any relief except a present of tea & sugar to a few old people at Christmas when he can get it. Acts strictly on the rule and the people never ask him for anything. Finds he gets on better without giving relief; if you give Mrs Jones something, Mr Brown wants it the next day.

During our walk and talk he dropped many observations about the religious agencies of the district incidentally. These I summarise:-

Little Wild St Chapell: Mr Wheatley is a good man. I have been delighted with his way of working (amongst the prisoners & poor) "but he must be head & tail". Told how he tested a man who wanted work by offering him bills to ~~distribute~~ distribute. Refused work as beneath his dignity & consequently was not received. Answery (Mr Andrews) who worked here is dead. No successor has been appointed.

The clergy of St Mary's le Strand give a deal of relief. Told of one person who said "Whenever I am in, I shall like you to come but you know he (vicar of St Mary's) gives us 4/- a week to pay the rent & it makes a difference you know". About 20 to 30 are receiving 4/- a week.

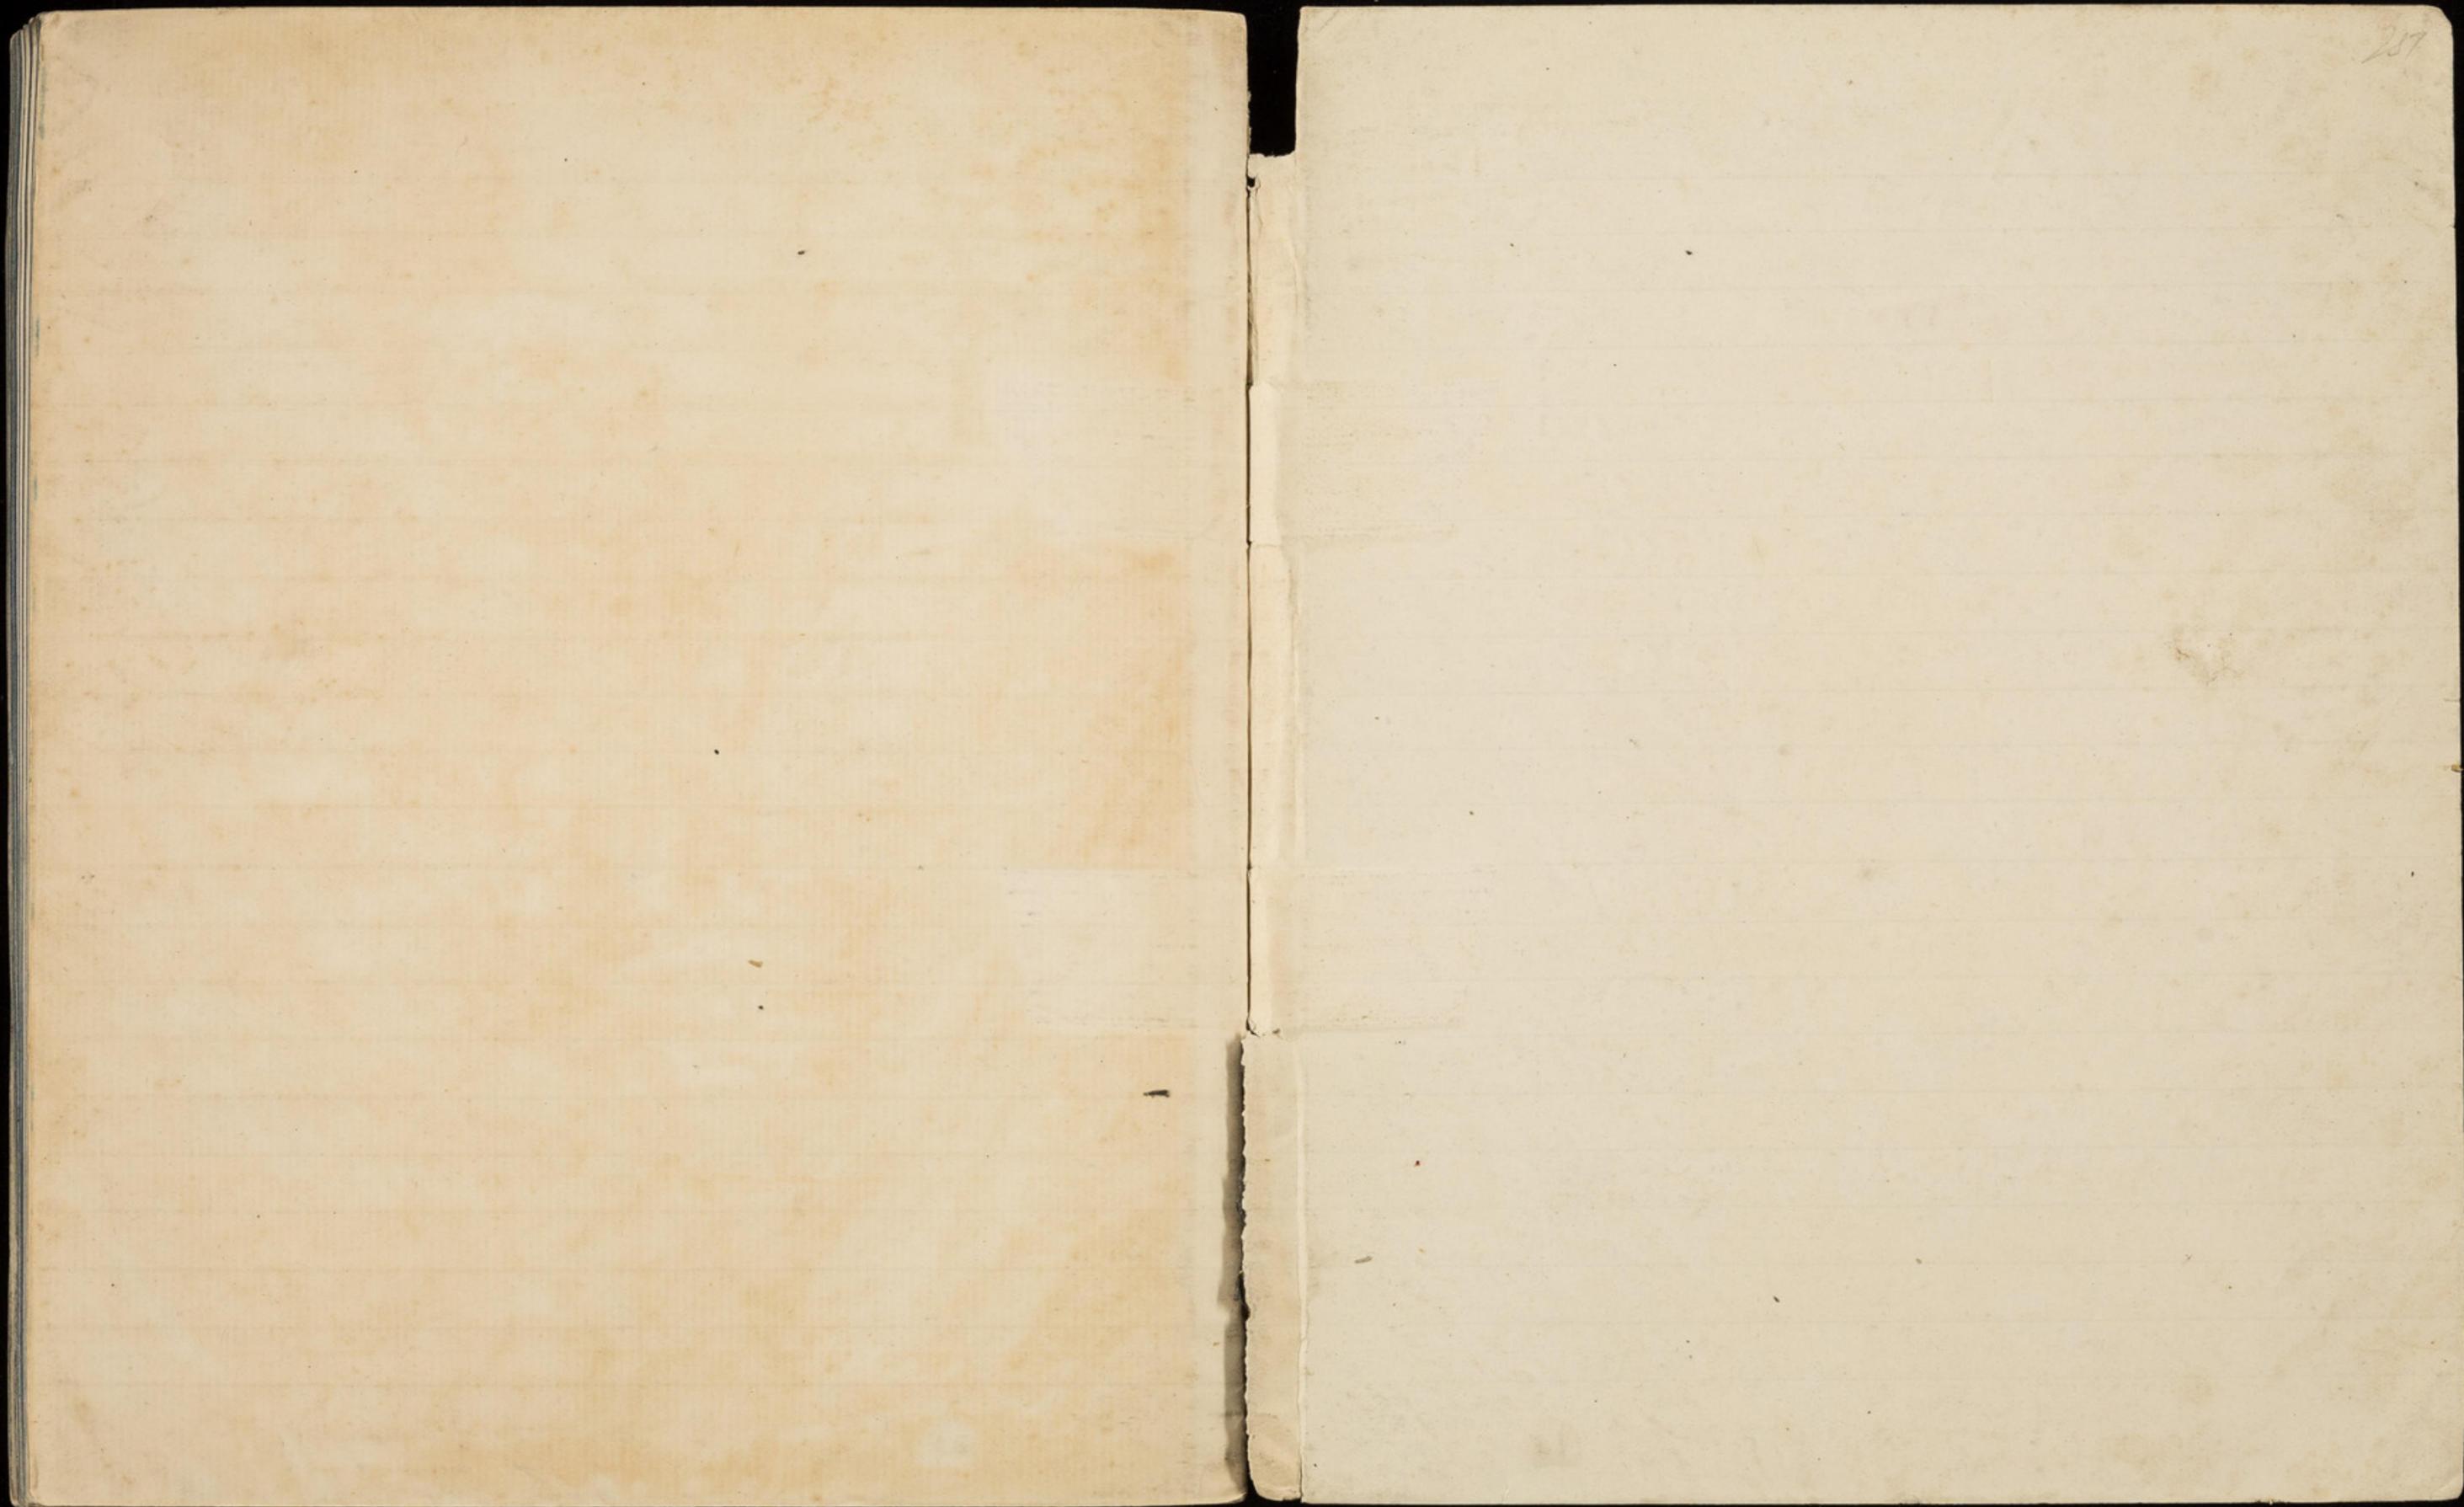

St Clements Daves are great beggars. The people ^{complain} ~~say~~ that the vicar is a thorough beggar but they never get anything out of him. He is also disliked for his ~~best~~ rude & overbearing manner. Has a scripture reader & lay helper. Curate a Irish man is always on the rush about parish & church work. Give things to the children at the church.

Wesleyans (Gt Queen St) come into the district to visit their own people occasionally

There is no theft amongst the people and but few cases of real poverty. A great deal of grasping amongst the women and they live in fear of each other. They are afraid to let it be known if they go to any religious meeting. Told of one woman cohabiting with a man, who came to his meeting. The other women noticed her absence from home; followed her and one day 4 of them came to the meeting for a lark. They liked it & instead of driving the other woman to give it up, were the means of bringing other.

Mr Licence appears to have the confidence of the people & to be regarded as a friend. The clergy however do not like him. "Regard me as a doormat" and think I have no business in the place. Asked as to results he said that occasionally he had definite cases but with the usual ending - they leave the neighbourhood as soon as may be.
